THERE IS NOTHING NEW

To Report Concerning the Canvass in New York.

All Parties Are Taking a Survey of the Field and Drawing Their Conclusions—That Hancock Is the South and the Colored Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The canvass of the Eighteenth Assembly District so far as completed in New York County shows absolutely no appreciable change in the figures at first reported in the press. Various rumors got into circulation during the day that gains were shown on one side or the other, but they were found to be entirely without foundation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—The Tribune says:

"As compared with the Associated Press returns there have been Republican gains for the city of 351."

All the other morning papers agree that a important change has been developed by the official.

A Survey of the Field.

THE BALANCE OF POWER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Times says:

"Several of the Republican ward associations in Brooklyn have taken up with great interest the business of expelling such of their members as are known to have voted against the Republican candidate for President. This course brings up the question as to the future party relations of the Independent Republicans. It may be questioned whether the Independent party, by going by with holding from those who opposed one candidate for one place their future co-operation in the varied work still remaining to be done.

The Independent have shown that in the election just held they were able to defeat the party. It is certainly worth reflecting on whether the party will not find it in their interest to recover in future contests what has not been lost. As for the Independents themselves, their position is neither doubtful nor impossible. They believe that they did the Republican party a good service in defeating a candidate who did not represent its good sense and did not carry all the evil tendencies with which the long possession of power had corrupted it. They are already anxious to act with the party again for good ends by its means. It may be that the party will refuse them the opportunity to do so, but in view of the achievements of the last five months, they are not afraid they will fall to find ways in which, with entire self-reliance and a fair promise of success, they can perform their duties as citizens of a free country under a representative government.

CLEVELAND AND THE INDEPENDENTS.

The Sun says: "The debt owed by Mr.

Cleveland to the Independent and Stalwart respects from the opposing party is a very trifling one. Their desertion was a serious prompted by a selfish and vindictive feeling toward Mr. Blaine and vengeance sought by the Independent party to secure a fair promise of success, they can perform their duties as citizens of a free country under a representative government.

A DRAWN BATTLE.

The Sun is another editorial says: "Free trade has gained in the popular mind but it has not won a victory, where the whole condition depends upon a petty plurality of 1,300 votes acquired after such a queer and phrenasical protection for Italy for Italy for Italy armor and before the time is decided there will be lots of fight."

THE REPUBLICAN GAINS.

The Tribune says: "In New York 555,000 votes were cast for Garfield in 1880. This ried the State in 1881 by nearly a majority of 300,000. In this city, the very center of independent strength, Mr. Blaine received a vote several thousand less than was cast before for him by any Republican. We cite these facts not for any malicious comparison not only to vindicate Mr. Blaine but to show the unparalleled canvass made by Mr.

Blaine."

That Banquet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Cyrus W. Field was asked by a reporter: "Is it true, Mr. Field, that a portion of the money subscribed at the Blaine banquet was not?"

"Who said there was any subscription made?" he retorted. "I am not a member of

"Was not that the object of the dinner?"

"No; it was not, and you can deny it as emphatically as you like," was the reply.

"There has been too much said about the dinner already without misrepresenting it. It was gotten up by six other gentlemen and myself and a lot of others wanted to join it and so we arranged for a large gathering.

There was not a dollar raised there. No one was asked to subscribe anything and no scrutiny was made. The story is false, and the reporter, as he hurriedly concluded the interview, heard several similar expressions as he hastened out."

Henry Clove's demagogue was in marked contrast to that of Mr. Blaine when the respondent visited him. "This is just the kind of disparaging which he explained was to be telegraphed to bigwigs."

This is how I view the situation," he remarked, and he repeated: "This is a growing faith in the election of Governor Cleveland and an acquiescence therein, besides a well grounded belief that he was elected, not by a "Solid South alone, but by the disaffected Republicans who made the campaign a personal one instead of, as heretofore, endeavoring to win through the merits of the candidates. Hence this carries a strong conviction that the President elect will be compelled to be very conservative."

"Was any money subscribed at the Blaine banquet?"

"No, sir; no one asked for money, and no money was raised. It is a good thing that dinner and old Blaine said, 'I, the Republican dish. The dinner ought never to have been given."

The South and the Colored Vote.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Governor

Thomas J. Jarvis was asked yesterday what effect Cleveland's election would have upon the colored vote in the South. He responded that the colored vote had been during the last eight years that their rights were secured under S. B. Vanues and himself Governors of the State, and they now no apprehension because of the election of Scalas as Governor. As soon as the workings of the National administration under Cleveland developed, the colored vote would be would go to pieces in his opinion, and could not be pulled all any more by the Republicans. He thought that at least one-third of the colored vote would vote for the Democrats in this State in 1888. The Governor further said that as soon as it is clearly demonstrated that the colored vote will vote for the Republicans, the white vote will also and the contests will then be upon some issue and not upon the color line, and in his opinion the fact will be the controlling question in the South, as a great number of Democrats are in favor of a protective tariff

The Governor said that the division of sion. Fusionists lost two and gained three.

Sixty-three counties in Michigan report a net gain of 4,000. This includes this county, which is strictly Democratic.

The remaining seventeen counties will change this slightly. In unofficial figures the reports from thirteen of these gave Fusion 300 net plurality.

A CASTLE GARDEN ROMANCE.

An Immigrant Girl Secures a Wealthy Husband.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A few weeks ago a pretty immigrant girl named Eliza Helms landed at Castle Garden. In a day or two she will start for Michigan as the wife of a prominent builder of that State who is worth at least $75,000. Eliza is twenty-five years of age and comes from Leuburg, Prussia. She is dressed very well, and had a little money in her purse when she landed at Castle Garden.

She had heard rumors that a fine immigrant woman was not safe even in New York, and seeing a benevolent-looking gentleman in the Castle Garden landing bureau, she went to him and asked him what she had better do in order to obtain a situation. The gentleman was much pleased with the girl, and he had her enter the garden to call on his friend, ex-Assemblyman Niglitch, who is in the Register Department, but he believed that he could find him in the house of a friend of his in Westchester County. The place was secured for Eliza, who has since received a letter from Niglitch, who is in the Register

The Count Progressing Satisfactorily to the Democrats.

CINCINNATI, O., November 15.—The following are the headlines of the Enquirer this morning: "The Republican Chance of Getting New York State, or Saving Their Official Fate—Childish Ways of Making Blaine Gains Where Everyone Knows There are None—Give the Republican Mismanagers a Clean Slate and a Soft Pencil That They May Figure Themselves a President, While the Democrats Enjoy the Actual Substance and Henceforth Paddle the Great National Canoe—Meanwhile That Metropolitan Mill Grinds Like That of the Gods With Out Altering the Grist."

J. A. BUCKLER, of Paris, has been elected to a $2,500 judgeship at El Paso, Texas, and every Legislature in the South and West will have one or more Kentucky members.

COMMISSIONER EVANS' report for the fiscal year shows the total receipts from all sources of internal revenue taxation for the year were $121,500,039, as compared with $144,553,344 for 1884, $146,523,273 for 1882 and $135,259,917 for 1881. It is estimated that $115,000,000 will be collected the present fiscal year.

The following sensible words are from the Louisville Bulletin, a paper printed and edited by colored men: "A few intense and bitter hot-headed fellows on either side may have uttered sentiments calculated to breed quickship, but the majority—all the sensible men of both races and both parties; though worked up to a fearful strain, to our credit as Americans—with such an important event as the change of administration from one party to another trembling in the balance—have deported themselves as become freemen and sovereigns of the grandest Governments of the world."

No man has lost his life; no troops have been called out; the administration passes from the control of the Republican party to the Democratic party, and God rules, and the Government of the people, by the people, and for the people, continues.

As Americans, we are proud that we have such a country and such institutions.

The same paper says: "It is natural for the one who remembers, by sad experience, their lot before the war, to feel concern as to the future, allowing that the Democrats have won the prize, which we trust is not well founded—but there is a vast change in the heart of the American people, Democrats as well as Republicans; South as well as North, and we do not believe that any considerable number, even of the 'old master class,' would now have a very restored, even were such a thing possible. The most bitter advocates of slavery in this country acknowledge that the country is better off without it, and freely assert that they would not own a slave if they could."

No friend; dark and sad as the disappointment may be, if Cleveland is elected, the American people, the Democratic party, as well as the Republican party, are committed to the amendments to the constitution and the results of the war."

Rheumatism by One Majority.

(Detroit Free Press.)

We were about three miles from Natchez when we heard a great shouting and waving in a negro's cabin by the roadside, and it was decided to dismount and go in. It was a tumble-down structure with a single room, and into this were crowded sixteen or eighteen colored people, mostly of the female sex. On a heap of straw on the clay floor was a sick woman. She was rolling her eyes and writhing as if suffering great pain. When asked what ailed her an old white-headed negro, who was called "doctor" by the others replied:

"Dat's just what we don't agree on. Some say it's de bilious colic, an' some say it's de gallbladder consumption."

"Why, man, something ought to be done for her right away, an' Ise de doctor dat would like to take right hold of de case."

"But why don't you?"

"Kase Ise broke up mah—J. G. M. I nether gin de same medicine for gallbladder consumption dat I do for bilious colic, an' untill we kin decide on deatment I don't dare to go ahead."

We were on our horses and ready to move off when the old man came out with a trepanner looking on his face. "Gentlemen, we has nether took a vote on it, an' we has declar'd it rheumatism by one majority. Ise gwine right at it to hunt de bricks an' gin her an' allright sweat."

Don't Refuse a Sick Man.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

"Don't refuse a sick man—J. G. M. We want if he'll outline himself in plain reasonable requests; not to change the count of the Presidential vote in order to oblige him is more than a sick man ought to ask. We'd all have to be pretty quick to get that."

AMERICA'S LIBERTY BELL.

A Proposition to Place it on Exhibition at New Orleans.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 15.—Shall the old liberty bell which rang out the notice to the people of America that independence had been declared on July 4, 1776, be removed to the New Orleans Exposition in the question which is animating official circles in this city. The committee of managers favor the project, but before the bell can be taken from its resting place in Independence Hall it will be necessary to obtain the consent of the City Council. At present the great relic, which is so dear to all American hearts, may be considered as in the direct custody of Congress. It will not authorize its removal to New Orleans or anywhere outside of this city," said Mr. Dixey, discussing the subject yesterday.

"If the City Council will consent to have it sent there, of course I will promptly obey their mandate. I understand that the Exposition people promise a guard to protect it, and will return it in good order. However, I will await the action of the Council."

The great liberty bell would be one of the most imposing features of the Exhibition, said Mayor Smith when asked for his opinion upon the subject. "When the sub-committee of managers have the matter under consideration in regard to its removal, I told them to draft their plans and submit them to me, and I would then send them to the Council. The gentlemen guaranteed its safe removal to New Orleans and its return in the same condition as when it left here. It is supposed to be placed in a car by itself, and no arrangement can be made with the people in all the towns through which it passes. The sight of it would be a great gratification to thousands of persons who can not afford to come here and look at it. By sending it to the exposition it would evince a spirit of generosity upon the part of Philadelphia which would be a credit to the South and appreciate and reciprocate at some future day. I believe a committee of Congressmen to accompany it, and the train that carries it would move as a triumphal procession through the land, and all honor would be reflected upon our great city."

A BRUTE.

Waiting Police Guards, Flenchly Butchers His Wife.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 15.—Officer Michael Ryan, of this city, made a desperate attempt to kill his wife last evening, and the probability is that the woman will die. Ryan lives at 81 North Western street. The police man, in a fit of rage, drew his knife and plunged it twice into his wife's abdomen. The woman called for help, and the police man tried to escape, but the alarm spread and he was arrested and locked up. He refuses to say anything. The physicians say she will die.

The Bishop of Albany, New York, Ford du Lac, Wisconsin, and twenty other Bishops were present. The subject of his discourse was Numbers, twenty-seventh chapter and sixteenth verse.
